ADVISORY

Sub: Providing immediate medical treatment to patients suffering from high level Air Pollution regarding.

It has been brought to the notice of this Directorate that due to high level of air pollution in Delhi & NCR since last one week, cases of persons suffering from Air Pollution due to prolonged exposure, are expected to increase. Patients suffering from air pollution may have symptoms like, dizziness, headache, feeling burning of eyes & breathlessness etc.

In this regard, hospital authorities are directed to ensure that they are appropriately equipped as regards the necessary infrastructure, manpower & medicines to deal with emergency situations due to consequences of high level of air pollution specifically to the vulnerability of children and senior citizens and provide them requisite medical treatment and prompt referral to higher centres for further management.
